

THE CERAMIC VIEW: SYMPOSIUM FOR MODERN CERAMIC ARTS

The Ceramic View Symposium is a modern ceramic arts symposium in South East Asia, to be organised in Bangkok in 2016. In collaboration between IAC members, Kullstrom/Park and Faculty of Architecture, Chulalongkorn University, it is first of its kind in the region. The symposium is set to promote modern ceramic art and showcase the creative process involved in the art of pottery in Thailand, and beyond.

Participating artists include Jenny Beavan, Ching-Yuan Chang, Thomas Cheong, Ane Fabricius Christiansen, Vinod Daroz, Satoru Hoshino, Nia Gautama, Jacques Kaufmann, Krisaya Luenganantakul, Hadrian Mendoza, Suphaka Palprem, Suku Park, Madhvi Subrahmanian and Pim Sudhikam

With the Ceramic View Symposium we wish to emphasise the social benefits of art and how creativity in arts can have a broad and positive impact on society. We wish to take the symposium to a social level where we can see the creative process of the artists and bring the artists closer to the audience.

Ceramic Symposium:

June 17 – 30, 2016 at Department of Industrial Design, Faculty of Architecture, Chulalongkorn University

Ceramic View Exhibition:

July 2 – 31, 2016 (Opening ceremony on July 1, 2016) at The National Gallery

For more information log on to: idchula.com/th/
Facebook: The Ceramic View

THE CERAMIC VIEW BANGKOK SYMPOSIUM FOR MODERN CERAMIC ARTS

June 17 – 30, 2016 at
Department of Industrial Design
Faculty of Architecture
Chulalongkorn University

Ceramic View Exhibition:
July 2 – 31, 2016
(Opening ceremony on July 1, 2016)
at The National Gallery

The Ceramic View Symposium is a modern ceramic arts symposium in South East Asia, to be organised in Bangkok in 2016.

In collaboration between IAC members, Kullstrom/Park and Faculty of Architecture, Chulalongkorn University, it is first of its kind in the region. The symposium is set to promote modern ceramic art and showcase the creative process involved in the art of pottery in Thailand, and beyond.

Participating artists include Jenny Beavan, Ching-Yuan Chang, Thomas Cheong, Ane Fabricius Christiansen, Vinod Daroz, Satoru Hoshino, Nia Gautama, Jacques Kaufmann, Krisaya Luenganantakul, Hadrian Mendoza, Supphaka Palprem, Suku Park, Madhvi Subrahmanian and Pim Sudhikam

For more information log on to: idchula.com/th/
Facebook: The Ceramic View

THE CERAMIC VIEW BANGKOK SYMPOSIUM FOR MODERN CERAMIC ARTS

June 17 – 30, 2016 at
Department of Industrial Design
Faculty of Architecture
Chulalongkorn University

Ceramic View Exhibition:
July 2 – 31, 2016
(Opening ceremony on July 1, 2016)
at The National Gallery

JUNE 17-30
CHULALONGKORN
UNIVERSITY

The Ceramic View Symposium is a modern ceramic arts symposium in South East Asia, to be organised in Bangkok in 2016. In collaboration between IAC members, Kullstrom/Park and Faculty of Architecture, Chulalongkorn University, it is first of its kind in the region. The symposium is set to promote modern ceramic art and showcase the creative process involved in the art of pottery in Thailand, and beyond.

Participating artists include Jenny Beavan, Ching-Yuan Chang, Thomas Cheong, Ane Fabricius Christiansen, Vinod Daroz, Satoru Hoshino, Nia Gautama, Jacques Kaufmann, Krisaya Luenganantakul, Hadrian Mendoza, Supphaka Palprem, Suku Park, Madhvi Subrahmanian and Pim Sudhikam

For more information log on to: idchula.com/th/
Facebook: The Ceramic View